Nursing, to me, is more than providing care – it is about offering comfort, reassurance, and strength when people need it most. I take pride in being a calm and compassionate presence, especially in moments that feel overwhelming or uncertain for patients and their families. My experience has shaped me into a nurse who values both clinical excellence and human connection, with a strong focus on safety, empathy, and thoughtful communication. I hope to make every person I care for feel respected, supported, and genuinely seen.

WORK EXPERIENCES

NURSERY NURSE

Newborn Nursery |
Mission Regional Medical Center
August 26 - Present

In my role as a nursery nurse, I provide attentive, compassionate care to newborns during their first moments of life, ensuring their safety, comfort, and stability. I perform routine assessments, monitor vital signs, support feeding and thermoregulation, and maintain a clean, secure environment. I also work closely with families, offering education, reassurance, and guidance as they begin caring for their newborn. Through collaboration with the healthcare team, I help ensure smooth transitions of care while prioritizing both clinical excellence and emotional support for each patient and family.

NURSE TECH

Intensive Care Unit- Cardiac Floor | Doctors
Hospital at Renaissance

April - July 2024

As a nurse technician in a high-acuity ICU setting, I supported critically ill patients by assisting with daily care, monitoring vital signs, and contributing to timely interventions. This experience allowed me to develop strong clinical awareness and adaptability in fast-paced, high-pressure environments. Working alongside experienced ICU nurses, I gained hands-on exposure to advanced care practices while learning the importance of teamwork, communication, and precision. I approached each patient with empathy and attentiveness, helping to provide both physical care and a sense of comfort during critical moments.
